New KYAE webpage for Standards-Based Instruction tools

This e-mail was sent to program directors.

This message is to alert you to the changes we've made to the KYAE Web pages for our work with standards-based instruction:

- 1) Now that we have a page devoted to the College and Career Readiness Standards, that page should be referenced to find the standards and appendices for use in your instruction; the older Common Core State Standards page has been eliminated.
- 2) All of our SIA resources are now in one place, the new College and Career Readiness \(CCR\) Standards-Based Instruction page. This new page is where you'll find the unpacking charts, resource alignment charts, unit and lesson planning tools, observation templates, etc. Our work to implement county plans for Standards-based Instruction, including the Quarterly Progress Report templates, can be accessed on this page, as well.
- 3) KYAE's newly approved Employability Standards may be found on the College and Career Readiness Standards page.

We hope you find these two KYAE Web pages helpful in your efforts to implement standards-based instruction in your programs.
